THE POPE'S FIGHT ON MODERNISM

One of the most drastic provisions for the suppression of modernism contained in the recent Motu Proprio was that which forbade in all ecclesiastical seminaries and houses of study of the religious orders and congregations the reading of newspapers, periodicals, reviews of all kinds, however orthodox or excellent. The prohibition was so sweeping that it included, apparently, not only such pillars of orthodoxy as the civil Catholics, the Harmonie della fede, etc., but even the official Acta Apostolicae Sedis itself, and periodical publications whose sole object is the promotion of piety. A number of bishops have written on the subject to the S. Consistorial Congregation, asking for an authentic interpretation of this rule, and among these was Cardinal Vassary, primate of Hungary. The congregation has now answered in the following letter to his eminence:

"Your eminence's letter, written also in the name of all the bishops of Hungary, dated September 27, has been received by his holiness with his accustomed benignity, and has been weighed by him with the care which the importance of the subject demands, and his holiness has ordered me to communicate the following decision to your eminence and the other bishops. The mind of our most holy father is that the law is to remain established which prohibits journals and periodicals, even the best, which treat of the political affairs of the day, or of the social and scientific questions which crop up daily, and have not yet found a definite solution—these, I say, are not to be freely left in the hands of the students. There is, however, nothing to hinder the superiors or professors of a seminary, when scientific questions are discussed, from reading to the students, or handing to them to read in their presence, articles from some newspapers or periodicals which they may deem useful or opportune for the instruction of the students. But periodicals which contain nothing contentious, but only religious news, the dispositions and decrees of the holy see, the acts and ordinances of the bishops, or others which, although periodicals, are merely readings promoting the faith and piety, may with the approval of the superiors of the seminary be allowed in the hands of the students out of study hours, or of the time prescribed for the other offices."

The letter is signed by Cardinal De Lal, prefect of the Consistorial Congregation.—The Tablet.
